Don't miss this opportunity to experience Art Brut – Collective Liberation.

This collective showcases vibrant and raw renditions inspired by figurative Prehistoric Art, Cubism and early 20th century Modernism — all done by adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities enrolled in Project Art.

“Art Brut” (literally, “raw art”) refers to the direct-from-the-heart creative impulse —unfiltered by theory— that can be felt in the works of self-taught artists situated by choice or by the force of circumstances on the margins of mainstream society and culture.

Project Art is a collaboration between Rockford Park District's Therapeutic Recreation Program and The Arc. Attendees will have the joy of viewing the work, as well as purchase art, jewelry, pillows, and crochet pieces.
